Soy Delicious Moisturizing Candle - yummy!

Who doesn't love a good candle? When you have a candle that you can also use as a moisturizer, it then becomes the ultimate eco-friendly product. Nothing goes to waste. There is such a company that has married the two, uses natural products and is appropriately called "Soy Delicious Moisturizing Candle".

Soy Delicious Moisturizing Candles are 100% soy candles, infused with a high concentration of fragrance & essential oils to ensure amazing scent. The amazing scent will fill every room in the home. Once the candle has liquefied, it can be used as a moisturizer for your hands, elbows or feet. You enjoy the benefits of soy - its antioxidant powers and rich Vitamin E properties. Finally, once the candle has completely burned out, clean out the tumbler and use it as a drinking glass. A candle made from renewable resource that comes in a recyclable container - WOW! These candles are also available in sets of 12 and the tins can be personalized for any occasion to make them the perfect gift for a bridal shower or wedding. I love a company that believes in 'waste not soy not'. What are you waiting for? Do something good for the environment, your friends and yourself.
